WELLS AND BRANCHES UNAC-COUNTABLY FILL WITH WATER.

Much Rejoicing at the Rain-Serious Damage from Forest Fires-Some Fast Horses in the Midlothian District-A Lithia Spring.

MIDLOTHIAN, VA., October 31 .- (Special.)-The farmers in this locality are highly gratified at the rain, and are hoping that the downfall may continue for several days, as the ground is fearfully dry and hard. No fall planting of any consequence has been done, but it goes without saying that a spirit of activity will be manifested here as soon as the rain stops that has not been seen for months before.

A REMARKABLE OCCURRENCE. A most remarkable thing in connection with the drought is the fact that many wells that a few weeks ago were almost dry have within the past few days filled up to a large extent, and are yielding an abundant supply of the liquid necessity. Branches that for weeks have been entirely dry have within the past day or so filled, and this before a drop of rain had fallen. This is regarded by many as a most remarkable phenomenon, but some of the older inhabitants claim that they have seen such occurrences before, particularly during a long drought, and just before rain began to fail. They say that as soon as they noticed the increased water-supply in their wells they felt sure it would rain in a few days, and that one of the severest droughts ever felt in this neighborhood was practically over.

An old darky, living on the farm of Mr. Justis, says that yesterday morning, while he was standing in the bed of a stream which had been dry for several weeks, he heard a bubbling sound above him, as though made by running water, and a body of water came rippling down, and that the branch has been full of water ever since. abundant supply of the liquid necessity.

FOREST FIRES.

It was reported here yesterday on excellent authority that the forest fires that have been raging in the interior of the county destroyed a great deal of property on the farm of Mr. Lee B. Lester, and, but for the heroic efforts of Mr. Lexter and several neighbors the residence would also have been burned. Mr. Lester lost a large amount of feed that was stacked in the fields. The damage from the fires in the interior of the county was much more serious than it was from those much more serious than it was from those in this locality

FAST ROAD-HORSES.

Fast road-horses are not limited exclusively to city people, for there are several in this neighborhood that can step down the road with race-horse speed, and would make the best roadsters hustle. Mr. John Turpin, of Hallsboro, has a high-headed bay that is regarded as one of the fastest horses in the county, and Mr. Eastman, of this place, has a handsome bay that can give Mr. Turpin all he wants. Mr. William G. Owens, who recently moved to this neighborhood, has the brown mare Gippy Patterson, by Messenger Duroc, that won first premium as standard brood-mare at the Exposition last fall. He is using her as a bucay-horse, and it is said she is the specificat summal in Chesterfield. There would be some sport if these gentlemen should happen to meet on the road.

Mr. Junius Brown, who was badly gored by a mad built a few weeks ago, has about the conversed from this injuries. FAST ROAD-HORSES.

Mr. Junius Brown, who was badly gored by a mad bull a few weeks ago, has about recovered from his injuries. Mr. James L. Robertson, of Manchester, has discovered that the old Langford spring, near Crow Spring Post-Office, con-tains a large amount of lithia. He has had the water analyzed.

GOT THREE YEARS.

Punishment for Maiming His Father. Arrested on Suspicion.

NEWPORT NEWS, VA., October 31 .-(Special.)-Louis Wyatt (colored) was convicted in the County Court this morning land, and his punishment fixed at three years in the penitentiary. Wyatt shot Holland in the head some eighteen months ago. He escaped after the shooting, and was at large until last August, when he came to this city and surrendered himself. Holland is living, but he is a physical wreck. Wyatt's case attracted more than ordinary attention. He was ably defended by ex-Commonwealth's-Atterney E. S. Robinson, who made a splendid argument in his behalf. A vigorous prosecution was made by Commonwealth's-Attertorney J. K. M. Newton.

FLY THE AMERICAN FLAG. The steamship Newborough, which was wrecked near Cape Henry last spring, and which was recently bought at auction and which was recently bought at auction by I. J. Merritt, has been sold by him to the Louisville and Nashville railroad for $25,600. The vessel is now being extensively overhauled at the ship-yard. When the repairs are completed she will be named Pensacola, and will fly the American flag. The Louisville and Nashville road will but the vessel on the route between Pensacola and New Orleans. The repairs to the ship will cost $55,000, or more than three times the purchase price.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION.

A negro who says his name is Jacob Pisher, and who corresponds in several respects with a description of Joe Pisher, who murdered a negro named Truskitt, in Charleston, S. C., three years ago, was arreated here last night by Policemen, Rayfield. The arrest was brought about by a letter which Chief-of-Police Harwood, of this city, received yesterday from the Chief of Police of Charleston, in which it was stated that the murderer was in this city. The prisoner declares that the murderer of Truskitt is his brother, and rigid questioning tended to convince Chief Harwood that he told the truth. He will be held until further information is received from Charleston.

Mr. Henry Konitzky, who was at one time president of the Newport News Ship-Building and Dry-Dock Company, and who is now superintendent of the Neafle & Leavy Ship- and Engine-Building Works, of Philadelphia, spent last night in this city. ARRESTED ON SUSPICION. in this city.

Dan Will Be Elected-Shipping Oysters West.

PREDERICKSBURG, VA., October 31.-(Special.)-Mr. Pat. McCault passed through town to-day, without a stop, on his way to King George county, where he goes to try to help Mr. Rodgers defeat Captain Dan. Lee. Pat. will be listened to and laughed at, but Dan. Lee will be elected.

Large shipments of oysters are being made from the Lower Rappahannock to the West, many of them going as far as Denver. This business is growing rapidly.

The business of the Richmond. Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad Company here is much heavier than ever before in the history of the road, and a new freight depot will soon be erected to meet the pressing need for more

Still-House Barned.

MONTEREY, HIGHLAND COUNTY, VA., October 31.—(Special.)—John A. Chesinut's apple-brandy still-house, located on Back creek, ten miles from Monterey, was consumed by fire one day last week. The reported burning was current here for several days, but was not authenticated until this evening.

Last year the still was not operated, and at the time of its burning was the only distillery in operation in the county.

The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin, but on account of the strong sentiment against the liquor traffic here there is little surprise expressed by the people. There were fourteen hogsheads of apples destroyed, together with the entire contents of the old building, and the loss is estimated at $89%. Before the still-house was totally consumed a blaze in a neighboring meadow tabout a mile away) was discovered, and it was found that a hay-stack belonging to flew. Howard Wade had been fired by some miscreant. The stack was burned to the ground.

HANOVER BEROES. Meeting of the Mural Tablet Com-

ASHLAND, VA., October 31.-(Special.) the committee of ladies and gentlemen who are in charge of the crection at the Courthouse of the mural tablets, upon which the names of the fallen heroes of Hanover will appear, met here to-day in the Council chamber to arrange for the purchase of the tablets. Those present were Mrs. John Page, Mrs. H. T. Wickham, and Mrs. J. H. Timberlake, Major John Page, Messrs. H. T. Wickham, and Mrs. J. H. Timberlake, Major John Page, Messrs. H. T. Wickham, George P. Haw, and Colonel H. W. Wingfield, A sub-committee of three—Messrs. Haw, Wickham, and Page—were instructed to order at once suitable tablets.

The remains of Mrs. William King, who died suddenly in Richmond Tuesday evening, arrived here to-day at 1239, and were laid to rest in the family graveyard at her old home near here. The services were conducted by Rev. C. P. Scott, of the Ashiand Baptist church.

Modified Plans Improved-A Land Sale.

WILLIAMSBURG, VA., October 31. (Special.)-The Building Committee of the Eastern State Hospital Board of Directors, having examined and approved the plans and specifications as modified for plans and specifications as meaned to the erection of a building for the insane sick, the board has been called to meet in special session on Wednesday, Novem-ber 6th, for the purpose of examining bids for the erection of the improvement. Mr. Gustave Helm, of York county, has Mr. Gustave Helm, of York county, has sold to Mr. L. L. Burrett, of Rockford, Ill., 180 acres of the famous Lansdowne estate, near York river, for $2.75 cash. Mr. Burrett, with his family, will take possession as soon as possible.

Mr. Seaton Tinsley, of Richmond, who is largely interrested in real estate in York county, was in town yesterday.

EASTERN SHORE TRAGEDY.

A Young Man Accidentally Kills His Brother.

CAPE CHARLES, VA., October 31, (Special.)-Benjamin Chandler, 21 years old, was accidentally shot and instantly killed this afternoon near Exmore by his brother. The two young men were re-turning from the woods, and were hurry-ing on account of a heavy rain which was failing. The unfortunate young man was a few yards ahead of his brother, when the latter's gun was accidentally dis-charged. The shot took effect in Benja-min's right side and penetrated the lungs,

The Prisoner Begins to Show Signs of the Ordenl Through Which She Is Passing-Her Faithful Brother

SALUDA, VA., October 31.-(Special.)-To-day was the seventh of the Williams murder trial, in progress in the Middlesex County Court. The crowd present in the forenoon was smaller than it had been heretofore. In the afternoon, however, the attendance was quite large. The interest manifested is still intense, and excitement ran high. The prisoner, Magnolia Williams, came over from Hotel Saluda, where she is staying, being out on bail, looking more distressed than at any time since this famous trial began, The ordeal through which she is passing is fast telling on her, Several imes to-day she wept bitterly.

Her sister, Mrs. Wilkins, and her brother, Mr. Jones, are with her, and attend her daily from the hotel to the

He agreed with Drs. Douglass and Booker that had the ball taken the course described by them death would have been, in all probability, instantaneous, and did not think it possible that both wounds could have been self-inflicted. He stated that it would have been impossible to trace the ball through the brain at the brain had been taken out, as Dr. Douglass stated had been done, and if the ball had entered the chest at the third rib and passed downward and backward it could not have struck the part which was said to have been wounded without forcing the sternum, which was enot done.

timony was very strong, and conflicted, to a very great excent, with the testimony of Dr. Douglass.

The defence then put on the stand Dr. Shackleford, of Northumberland county, who testified that J. S. Williams, the deceased, came to his house on the day of his death and obtained medicine from him, and that the deceased was very much disturbed mentally, and was very despondent in regard to his physical condition. He did not see the deceased again until the following Saturday, when he and Dr. Brent went to make the examination at the Coroner's inquest. They found a wound over the right eye, and that there was blackness around the edge of the wound. They probed the wound, and the probe went directly back. They found another wound in the third rib, which they tried to probe, but could not. He believed that death was caused by the wound in the head. Court then adjourned.
